

S. P. CONDON

Announces For

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

OF ROADS

At the continuous and earnest solicitation of my many friends, irrespective of party, I have decided to become a candidate for County Superintendent of Roads, subject to the democratic convention. Realizing the importance of this position, which is patent to every taxpayer in the county, and knowing the need myself of a practical and experienced man for the building and maintaining—the maintenance in particular—which has been sadly neglected for many years to the immense detriment and cost to the county

I have decided to seek the nomination for this important office, I feel capable of the duties of this office, and the responsibilities it will impose upon the incumbent. And this I believe is well known to the majority of the citizens of Knox county. Respectfully yours,

S. P. CONDON

BUILDING TRADES PLEDGE CO-OPERATION

Co-operation of all building trades and industries with the government and all its agencies in meeting the emergencies arising from the war was the central idea at a session of the Co-operative League of the Building and Trades Industries at Chicago. Plans also were made for a survey of Chicago's resources and facilities for making war supplies.

Urges Faster Work.

The man working in the shipyard contributes a war-time service to the nation only less important than that of the soldier or sailor, Secretary Daniels said in a statement emphasizing the necessity of stimulating ship production.

"Ships, ships, and more ships is the call of the hour," said the secretary. "We must have them to carry our armies to Europe and to keep our troops and the allies supplied with food and munitions."

"Every vessel that is turned out in this country counts toward the defeat of Germany. Every worker in a shipyard can feel that he is doing a part toward winning this struggle only less important than that of the men on our warships or in the trenches."

Mine Workers Show Patriotism.

Hearty support of the administration in its prosecution of the war was pledged by the United Mine Workers of Illinois, in convention at Peoria, Ill. This telegram was sent: "We unanimously offer to you and to the nation our most hearty support during the present crisis through which the country is passing. We desire to cooperate with you and your administration in every manner possible to bring about a successful termination of the war, and the entire membership of the Illinois miners is at your command."

Urges Unions Admit Women.

The necessity for the establishment of a national policy governing the employment of women workers in industrial plants was emphasized by Miss Edith Campbell, vice chairman of the Pennsylvania committee of women in industry, council of national defense, before the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education at Philadelphia.

Miss Campbell advocated the admission of women in labor unions and urged men to help them in every way to do "this job we've got to do, and do well, if the war is to be won."

Preventable Accidents.

Nine-tenths of the 240,000 accidents that occurred in Pennsylvania last year were preventable, according to Harry A. Mackey, chairman of the workmen's compensation board.

Where Workers Live.

In providing houses for shipworkers and others, according to present proposals, Americans should profit by experience in Britain and France.

Defective School Children.

Sixty to 75 per cent of the children attending the public schools in New Jersey are physically deficient.

SETS EXAMPLE OF LOYALTY

Organized Labor Has Shown Itself Ready and Willing to Make Sacrifices to Win the War.

By CHARLES P. FORD, Secretary International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The loyalty of the officers and members of organized labor to their country cannot be questioned. The opportunity my position gives me to obtain the individual sentiments of thousands of members of the organization I represent as well as members of other organizations and trades, show clearly that the latter realizes the causes which lead up to the present conflict as well as the importance of fighting this war to a victorious end that the light of freedom may shine on the people of Europe and the civilized world. It is evident from the ready response of labor to the call of their country that labor is ready and willing to sacrifice their all to aid and assist in this struggle.

The attitude and action of some of those who claim to be exponents of the cause of labor and humanity and who are endeavoring to hamper and harass the government all possible should not be considered as representing the feeling or sentiments of the great mass of organized labor of this country. Naturally this condition gives the political and social anarchist, and the advocates of other creeds and isms, an opportunity to spread their propaganda. Quite often the reading public misunderstands the utterances of such persons as voicing the sentiment of organized labor, which is entirely erroneous. Labor's position has been fully demonstrated by its willing co-operation, and labor will continue to fight to establish better conditions throughout the entire world.

RED-LETTER DAY FOR TRADE UNIONS.

It is a fact that the trades unions which have been most observant of the two-sided nature of collective bargaining have been the most successful ones. It can fairly be said that the great union of coal miners made of the day on which it voted to stand by its voluntary agreements, moved thereto by the weight of the extraordinary critical nature of the employment at this time, a red-letter day in the calendar of American trade unionism.—New York World.

THRIFT

When we consider that in America 95 out of every 100 of our citizens who reach the age of 60, are dependent upon their daily earnings, or on others for their support, it is high time thrift should be everlastingly practiced. Thrift is individual preparedness.

Why do you hesitate to be thrifty? Are you to be one of those dependents at 60?

Answer these questions satisfactorily by putting your dollars in a Savings Account, for success will be based on your ability to save, of which, thrift is the foundation.

LABOR DEMANDS NEW LAWS

Canadian Workmen Make Most Effective Plea for Fewer Hours for Workers in Factories.

A large deputation of labor men asking for important amendments to the laws of the province waited on Premier Hearst and members of his cabinet at the parliament buildings, according to the Toronto Globe. The most important were as follows:

From the brotherhood of carpenters petitioning the government for the observance of the prevailing schedule of wages, hours and other established working conditions.

To provide for the abolishing of property qualifications for aspirants for municipal honors, as required by the municipal act.

The stationary firemen requested that none but qualified and licensed firemen be permitted to operate steam boilers and for the proper inspection of boilers.

That the government declare all its employees in the building trade eligible for compensation.

The licensing of all journeymen barbers and a rigid inspection of all barber shops to protect the health of the public.

To enforce the efficiency of all moving picture operators and that all theatrical employees be eligible for compensation.

To have all clothing manufactured in sanitary workshops and factories instead of men and women taking home the clothing to be made up.

No retail clerk, man or woman, to work more than forty hours a week.

When a house is repaired, all the old paper and calendering to be removed, this to safeguard the health of the paperhanger and the occupant of the house.

That stationary engineers shall have direct representation on boards of license examiners; that no person be allowed to operate a boiler of more than ten pounds pressure unless he has an engineer's certificate.

The cabinet ministers were impressed with the speeches of the labor men, and Premier Hearst assured the deputation that they need not go away feeling that the resolutions would be put in cold storage.

Regarding the question of the ages of children working in factories, he said he could not promise them then what the government would do, but he would say that something was likely to be done.

St. Louis, March 27.—Fred Gus Schmidt, national organizer for the Butchers and Meat Cutters' union, was held for the federal authorities here on a charge of pro-German activities.

U. S. Gives Swiss 50,000 Tons of Ships.

Washington, March 27.—The transfer of 50,000 tons of American shipping to the Swiss government to take supplies to that country was announced by the shipping board.

NEW LIBERTY

LOAN 3 BILLION

McAdoo Makes Announcement of Third Issue of War Bonds.

AT 4-4 PER CENT INTEREST

Campaign Opens on April 6.—Secretary Calls on Americans to Oversubscribe Securities to Insure Defeat of Huns.

Washington, March 27.—Authorization of $1,500,000,000 additional for loans to the allies during the coming summer was asked when Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo revealed additional details of the third Liberty loan plans to the house, ways and means committee. The secretary explained that of the original $7,000,000,000 authorized for these loans only $2,000,000,000 remains to be expended and at the present rate of disbursement, $500,000,000 per month, this sum will be exhausted by the end of the fiscal year, June 30. The additional amount asked will provide for loans up to the end of September at the same rate.

Washington, March 27.—Secretary McAdoo announced that the amount of the third Liberty loan would be $3,000,000,000, the bonds carrying 4½ per cent interest and that all oversubscriptions will be accepted.

The secretary of the treasury outlined his plan following a conference with Representative Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, and will ask congress for approval.

Will Be Nonconvertible.

Outstanding features of the third war loan plan as announced are:

The bonds will be nonconvertible, but bonds of the first and second war loans may be converted into the new 4½ per cent securities.

The bonds will be acceptable at par and accrued interest in payment of United States inheritance taxes.

They will have the benefit of a sinking fund of 5 per cent per annum during the period of the war and for one year thereafter.

Authority to issue $4,500,000,000 in bonds in addition to the $3,000,000,000 already authorized and unused is proposed in new loan legislation prepared for submission to congress, so that the total amount which may be issued is $8,000,000,000.

Congress, the secretary announced, will be asked for authority to make additional loans to the allies during the coming summer. The decision to make the new bonds nonconvertible, he said, was reached in order to put an end to the expectation of higher interest rates.

Mr. McAdoo said expenditure of the United States and the allied governments had been below estimates and that consequently a greater loan than that planned was not necessary. Up until recently expectations outside of government circles as to the new issue had ranged between $4,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000.

In a statement issued when making the announcement the secretary declared that the great events now happening in France must fire the soul of every American with a new determination to furnish all the dollars and all the material resources of America that are needed to put an end to the execrable atrocities of German militarism.

"Defeat faces the kaiser," he declared. "Let us hasten it by asserting America's might with increased vigor in concert with our gallant comrades. I am sure that the people will respond to the third Liberty loan with the same loyalty and enthusiasm that characterized their support of the first two loans."

Badge of Honor for Buyers.

New York, March 27.—Subscribers to the third Liberty loan will receive a badge of honor, it was announced by the publicity department of the war loan organization here. The button will have a brilliant red border with white inscription "Third Liberty Loan." In the center is a miniature picture of the Liberty bell. Approximately 15,000,000 of these badges are now ready for delivery.
